Daniela Ölmunger is the project manager of One Stop Future Shop, the largest collaboration of the European Regional Development Fund (ERDF) in the west of Sweden. One Stop Future Shop focuses on start-up and business development, and is run by the City of Gothenburg in cooperation with Business Region Gothenburg, Gothenburg University, the Red Cross and Göteborgslokaler. Daniela received her Master's degree in European Studies at Gothenburg University, and is currently pursuing a second Master's degree in Project Management at Karlstad University.

In brief, One Stop Future Shop is an EU-funded regional growth project supporting local entrepreneurs and start-ups. Strongly focusing on sustainability and social entrepreneurship, it offers business advice, seminars, workshops and other supporting activities in over six languages, free-of-charge. Its programs include Start-up FastTrack, a one-month idea development course.

In 2016, Daniela represented an earlier project, Entrepreneurial West Hisingen, at the European Enterprise Promotion Awards, where it won.

At the seminar, she will explore the role of the municipality for One Stop Future Shop: how it can focus on economic hubs in cities to spearhead job creation and employment.
